

2. A decision to refer a patient to a psychologist would be consistent with this principle.

- a. Competence and professional development in practice (Non-maleficence)
- b. Integrity in personal and organizational behaviors and practices (Autonomy)
- c. Professionalism (Beneficence)
- d. Social responsibility for local, regional, national, global nutrition and well-being (Justice)

Question Title

3. This principle encourages nutrition and dietetics practitioners to refrain from re-tweeting unsubstantiated nutrition claims.

- a. Competence and professional development in practice (Non-maleficence)
- b. Integrity in personal and organizational behaviors and practices (Autonomy)
- c. Professionalism (Beneficence)
- d. Social responsibility for local, regional, national, global nutrition and well-being (Justice)

Question Title

4. Promoting fairness and objectivity with fair and equitable treatment is included in this principle.

- a. Competence and professional development in practice (Non-maleficence)
- b. Integrity in personal and organizational behaviors and practices (Autonomy)
- c. Professionalism (Beneficence)
- d. Social responsibility for local, regional, national, global nutrition and well-being (Justice)

Question Title

5. This principle may be called to question when a nutrition and dietetics practitioner working for a food company makes a statement that is based on his/her personal opinion about the company's food product having a "low carbon footprint."

- a. Competence and professional development in practice (Non-maleficence)
- b. Integrity in personal and organizational behaviors and practices (Autonomy)
- c. Professionalism (Beneficence)
- d. Social responsibility for local, regional, national, global nutrition and well-being (Justice)

Question Title

6. A nutrition and dietetics practitioner who participates in discharge care planning meetings by contributing to the well-being of patients/clients would be exhibiting this principle.

- a. Competence and professional development in practice (Non-maleficence)
- b. Integrity in personal and organizational behaviors and practices (Autonomy)
- c. Professionalism (Beneficence)
- d. Social responsibility for local, regional, national, global nutrition and well-being (Justice)

1. Email is an acceptable way for nutrition and dietetics practitioners to communicate an upcoming appointment reminder with a client.

- True
- False

Question Title

2. Issues related to health disparities are not covered by the Code of Ethics.

- True
- False

Question Title

3. Nutrition and dietetics practitioners are obliged to contribute to the advancement of students

- True
- False

Question Title

4. Nutrition and dietetics practitioners are encouraged to participate in research as a way to enhance practice.

- True
- False

Question Title

5. The principle of justice includes engagement in service that benefits the community and enhances the public's trust in the profession.

- True
- False

Answers –

- 2 – A
- 3 – C
- 4 – D
- 5 – A
- 6 – C

- 1 – T
- 2 – F
- 3 – T
- 4 – T
- 5 – T